

Requirements Classification: Functional Requirements — LoroTOPIK

Category	Question	Case (ATM)
1) Function	• What does the system do? • When does the system do that? • Are there various distinct operational modes? • When and how is the system modified or expanded?	• Provides Korean/TOPIK learning, vocabulary, grammar, and exam preparation. • Available whenever the user accesses the website. • Provides different modes such as learning, practice, mock exams, review, and progress tracking. • The system can be expanded by adding new lessons, vocabulary, questions, and learning materials.
2) Data	• What are the input and output, and what forms do they take? • How frequently is data received and sent? • How accurate must the data be? • What is the volume of data flowing into the system?	• Input: User information, answers, written responses, and learning activity. Output: scores, explanations, translations, feedback, and progress information. • Data is received whenever users study, answer questions, take tests, or submit writing. • Korean questions, vocabulary,

Requirements Classification: Functional Requirements — LoroTOPIK

	• For what specific period must data be retained?	grammar, answers, and scores should be accurate. • 3,000+ TOPIK questions, 3,000+ vocabulary words, and 200 core grammar points. • Learning history and progress are stored and synchronized with the user's account; the website does not publicly specify an exact retention period.
3) Input/Output	• What inputs from other systems flow in and out? • Is there a specific format for the data?	• User account information, quiz answers, written answers, and learning-progress data. • Korean text uses Hangul; written answers are submitted as text; results are provided as scores, feedback, explanations, and progress information. • Supports explanations in multiple languages.